

Health & Safety Policy

Introduction

The Health and Safety Policy and the related management of health and safety appendices detail measures and procedures to maintain the well-being of everybody at King's College.

Health and Safety Statement

King's College attaches the utmost importance to the safety, health and welfare of its employees and pupils. King's College endeavours to comply with the provisions of the Health and Safety from The National Institute for Safety Health and Wellbeing at Work (INSSBT) and regulated by the law 31/95 and all subsequent regulations, including those implementing EC Directives. King's College is fully compliant with the local laws).

King's Group bears ultimate responsibility for the leadership and day to day responsibilities are delegated to the Head Teacher.

The management team will take steps so far as is reasonably practicable to ensure that the workplace is a safe and healthy environment in which its employees, pupils, contractors and other persons affected by the King's College operations can work.

The management team will make the necessary assessments, identify safety training and provide information and supervision for employees at all levels. It will consult on a regular basis with all employees with regards to health and safety issues. It will provide the necessary safety devices and protective clothing, provided that a safer working environment cannot be achieved by any other means.

Aims

King's College's work programmes will, so far as is reasonably practicable, adopt good safety practices. These will ensure:

- That all reasonable steps are taken to ensure the health, safety and welfare of all persons using the King's College premises.
- Safe methods of working exist and are implemented throughout the school for staff and pupils.
- Staff, pupils and others are instructed, as necessary, in safe working practices.
- All equipment for which King's College is responsible is in good and safe working order, and adequately protected.
- Toxic, hazardous or other dangerous substances for which King's College is responsible are correctly used, stored and labelled.
- Health and safety concerns are reported to the H&S Specialist.
- The continued development of safety awareness amongst staff, pupils and other supervising adults.

Co-operation

All aspects of health and safety remain a leadership responsibility. However a safe and healthy workplace can only be achieved with the full co-operation of every employee.

Employees are duty bound to act responsibly and to do everything possible to prevent personal injury to themselves and to others. They must also safeguard all persons to whom King's College owes a duty of care: namely people who may come into contact with their work; pupils, parents, visitors etc.

To achieve this, employees must:

- Obey all the safety rules and procedures, including the wearing of protective clothing and the use of protective devices if they are specified by the King's College risk assessments.
- Exercise their awareness, alertness, self-control and common sense at work.
- Report promptly to their Department Head all hazards, potential hazards, defects in equipment and any shortcomings in the school's work systems or procedures.

Employees should not be in any doubt that the King's College will apply disciplinary procedures to any employee who intentionally breaches King's College's health and safety policy. This includes any specific safe systems of work, instructions, training and procedures laid down for the protection of those involved in King College's operations, and for those who may become involved in them.

Policy Review

This policy will be regularly revised, by the Headteacher as necessary (but at a minimum of one year intervals). In conducting the policy reviews, due regard will be given to the following:

Planning - The elimination of risks in the workplace by careful selection and design of facilities, equipment and processes, together with effective control measures and training for employees.

If appropriate, the school will consider the risk to safety involved in:

- Dealing with physical, chemical and biological hazards, such as machinery safety, chemical safety, and the school building structure.
- Contractors in schools.
- Vehicle movements within the school grounds.
- Workplace arrangements, including maintenance.
- School trips.
- Work experience arrangements.
- Violence to staff.
- School security.
- Stress management.
- Letting of school premises to outside bodies.
- Pupils with special needs, i.e. manual handling.
- Any other site specific issue, e.g. gardens and playgrounds.

Organisation - A review of the King's College's organisation including changes to ensure that responsibilities for health and safety are clearly defined at all times to all employees at every level.

Control

Ensuring that the safety requirements are implemented throughout the King's College by all employees and that training is regularly conducted in support of those standards.

Monitoring and Review

Health and Safety Walks will be carried out and a Health and Safety Committee conducted each Term. These documents will form the basis for monitoring and review, to ensure that a credible standard of health and safety is achieved.

Health & Safety Management

King's Group has overall responsibility for the implementation of the policy and will ensure that sufficient finance provision is made available to support the policy.

In order to achieve the aims and objectives of the health and safety policy these issues will be brought regularly to the attention of King College's Health & Safety Committee, Senior Leadership and School Management Board Meetings.

A copy of the Health and Safety Handbook will be given to all employees when they join King's College. When changes have been made to the handbook or to the policy, copies will be placed on King's College's School server.

Details of staff responsibilities are stated for signed agreement in Appendix A.

Further details of health and safety management are detailed in Appendix B.
